THE FUTURE OF MINING.

Every step that reduces the cost of treatment, says the Chicago Mining Review opens up to profitable working thousands of tons of ore in every camp already mined and ready to be utilized. The improvement of transportation facilities, the establishment of mills and furnaces, the completion of roads, and all that saves in the expenditure of time or money, adds so much to the value of the product and the profit of mining. The mining industry has been established and built up under the most adverse circumstances, and now every advance in the direction of improvement will be to the advantage and benefit of the miner. In the almost inaccessible localities where so many mines are opened, only the most valuable ores will pay for long transportation and costly methods of extraction. Therefore the output of mines which all cost money and labor, must be sorted and separated; a part to be almost entirely consumed by the great expense necessary, and the other part to remain practically worthless until the measure of the cost has been reduced. As the subsidence of water on an overworked tract at each stage brings a thousand objects into prominence, so the decrease of every dollar of expense will change the condition of the ore dumps of the whole mining country, and give them a value. Thus it will be seen that nothing can be worse, but every change must be an advantage and benefit, hence the future outlook is most promising and encouraging.

LABOR CONFERENCE

At the International Labor Conference, at Paris, yesterday, the following resolutions were adopted: This Convention records its opinion that the principal end to be pursued, is to limit the hours of labor, and thus render supportable the position of workmen of all nations. This is attainable in two ways, namely: Legislation for the protection of the weak against competition, and the organization of workmen, who should be united and disciplined in their duty. The workmen to direct their efforts against the unjust laws which render an organization of labor impossible, and hinder international legislation which is so necessary to ameliorate the condition of the working classes.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lady Anne Blount, daughter of the Earl of Lovelace, and his late countess, Ada Augusta Byron, so strongly resembles her grandfather, Lord Byron, that when presented to the Queen, her Majesty kissed her, saying, "I do that for the love I bear your ancestor, the poet whom I most love."

Judge Hoadley, the Governor elect of Ohio, has returned to Philadelphia, and again placed himself under the care of his physician.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Sheridan Assumes Command

WASHINGTON, November 1.

The formal transfer of the command of the army from Sherman to Sheridan took place at noon to-day at the headquarters of the army in Washington. General Sheridan spent the forenoon in making himself acquainted with the business of the office. General Sherman with his staff, rendered him every assistance. Shortly before 12 o'clock the officers of the army called on the Secretary of War, General Sherman to take official leave, and General Sheridan to report for duty. The transfer was accomplished quietly, without any ceremony whatever, beyond the issuance of a general order notifying the army of the change of commanders.

Headquarters of the Army, Washington, November 1, 1883, General Order No. 78.

In obedience to the order by the President, promulgated in General Order No. 71, October 13, 1883, from these headquarters, the undersigned hereby assumes command of the army of the United States. The following named officers compose my personal staff: Major Michael Sheridan, Assistant Adjutant General; Military Secretary, Captain Wm. J. Valkmar of the 5th Cavalry; Aid de Camp, Captain Jas. F. Griger of the Corps of Engineers.

(Signed) P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant General.

By R. C. Drum, Adjutant General.

These orders were the last and first official acts, respectively, of the outgoing and incoming commanders. Sheridan received the congratulations from prominent Generals.

CHICAGO, November 1.

The following is just received:

"Headquarters of the Division of Missouri, Chicago, November 1st, General Order No. 17:

"I hereby relinquish the command of the Division of the Missouri, in compliance with General Order No. 17, dated at the headquarters of the army, October 13. In parting with the officers whom I have had the honor to command for the last 14 years, I desire to express thanks for the confidence and support given me by them, and to my administration of this Division. When I assumed command of it, hostile Indians crowded the country west of the Missouri river, from the boundary line of our possessions on the north to the Concho river, in Texas. But few settlements existed, and the construction of railroads there had only just begun. Since then the Indians have been so far subdued that in the territory formerly occupied by them alone, cities, towns and cattle interests have grown up, and railroads have been built. In these great changes the troops of this division have been the active and important agents. During these many years it has been my especial gratification to have had no disagreement with my subordinates, and that from the commander to the private soldier, faithful services have been rendered to the Government. With this assurance, I shall wish to remember the hardships suffered, the battles fought, the results achieved and the gallant conduct of those who have given the best of their lives in savage warfare, I relinquish a command that has been to me a pleasure as well as a duty.

(Signed) P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant General."

General Order No. 18.—In compliance with general order No. 17, headquarters of the army, dated October 13, 1883, I hereby assume the command of the Division of the Missouri. Captain Wherry of the Sixth Infantry, and First Lieutenant, Charles B. Schofield, of the Second Cavalry, are announced as aids de camp.

(Signed) J. M. SCHOFIELD, Major General.

James, the Outlaw.

KANSAS CITY, November 1.

Frank James, the notorious outlaw, under arrest at Gallatin, was yesterday given the freedom of the town, and with his wife and child, walked about visiting the stores at will. Great indignation is felt by the citizens of Gallatin over the fact of James being allowed his liberty. In the Court-house while James was walking about the streets, was a negro with ball and chain attached to his legs, who is charged with stealing a ham for his family.

The lines in Oregon and Washington Territory will send the mail for points east of the Mississippi river, via the Northern Pacific Railroad and St. Paul. The superintendent of the division of the railroad mail service, will issue instructions to divert at Blackfoot Junction, all mail for lines west of the Mississippi river and east of the Rocky mountains. It will make better time via the Utah Northern Division of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Murderous Brute

PHILADELPHIA, October 31.

A tragedy resulted from a game of croquet last Sunday, three miles from Woodbury, New Jersey. The players were two men and two women (Germans). Rudolph Hines grew angry because his wife beat him, and kicked her with a heavy cowhide boot. She became unconscious, and died soon after.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

Saved His Distance.

PORTLAND, Or., November 1.

The British bark "Rowland Hill," of 856 tons, in ballast from Port Moody, arrived here at 2 P. M., and was immediately docked. Unlike the usual charter to parties, her's reads, "Unless the vessel is ready to receive her cargo by sunset on October 31st, the charterers have the privilege of cancelling or maintaining the charter party." She was chartered prior to her arrival, by Dickson, Dewolf & Co. of San Francisco, at 60 shillings. Being soft wood, she could not be rechartered to-day for more than 42 shillings 6 pence. Immediately on her arrival, a large force was put to work unloading the ship, and at 4:30, the Captain reported to the consignees that he was ready to receive a cargo; thus saving by a scratch about $6,000 for the ship.

Leroy's Accomplices Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 1.

Thomas McDonald and James Dollar, the accomplices of Leroy, who murdered Nicholas Skerritt last August, has been captured by detective Lees. Both men made detailed confessions of their doings with Leroy, but claim to have had no hand in the murder. Their confessions will be read to Leroy to-day, to see what he has to say about them.

Charged With Larceny.

PORTLAND, November 1.

Joe Bachman of Bachman & Co., bankers and insurance agents, who lately failed, has been arrested on a complaint by Charles Connell, charged with the theft of $2,700, the amount deposited with them between August 1st and September 27th. Suits have been begun against the firm in nearly every Court in the city, from the United States Court down to the Justice's.

Congressman Ermentrout of Reading, Pennsylvania, was knocked down in the street and beaten by George Smith, a Democratic local politician.

A desperate fight occurred to-day at Kocane, Herzegovina, between Austrian military police and robbers, in which several of the robbers were killed.

The Best Toilet Soap.

The most economical.

Good for the skin.

Improves the complexion.

Cures skin diseases.

BONNETT is a great favorite with ladies who have tried it, because it gives a natural appearance to the skin which other soap can impart. It does not leave that glossy, shining appearance on the face which is considered so objectionable. Only 10 cents a cake. Sold by all druggists.

The whole upper part of the Palace Hotel having been recently rebuilt and newly furnished, is the reason that its patrons never complain.

The last man to get aboard the west-bound train this morning was a woman. She made it by "the skin of her teeth." If she had depended upon anything else, she would have spent the day in Reno.

Several flocks of mountain quail are making their homes in gardens about town. The Lake House orchard is full of them, and Jack Fraser takes pride in feeding a flock living in his garden; they are very tame.

THE CARSON RACES.

An interesting day's sport. Fred B. Wins the Trot After An Interesting Contest.

The races at Carson commenced yesterday, and were well attended. The first race, running, between Thompson's Conquest; Baldy Green, Midnight and Fawn, was won by Baldy Green in two straight heats; time 1:55 and 1:54.

The second race was trotting, mile heat, three in five, between Hayward, William Tell and Fred B. Five heats were trotted, Fred B. taking the first, second and fifth heats, and winning the race. Time 2:37, 2:36 and 2:37. Tell taking the third and fourth in 2:37 and 2:34. The last heat was closely contested between Hayward and Fred B. Hines swinging into Fred's sulky, cutting out the most of the spokes, but Fred B.'s driver kept his seat, leaving the little black in a "masterly manner" under the wire a nose ahead. The judges put Hayward behind the distance flag for foul driving.

Halloween.

On Halloween, tradition asserts, the dead arise and walk forth, while spooks and goblins make their visits and knock about your chamber, and the boys and girls are licensed to swap clothing with each other, and take the good man's gate from its rusty hinges, race through his backyard and do about as they like. Last night the girls were out, dressed in boys' clothing, calling upon their friends, while the boys were wrapped in calico. The best part of this forenoon has been spent in "setting to rights" the doings of the practical jokers.

Supposed Robbers Arrested.

Two brothers named Benton have been arrested at Kernville, Cal. They are supposed to be the two armed and masked men who stopped a buggy coming from Kernville on the 18th instant with bullion for the San Francisco mint.

WADSWORTH DOINGS.

A Few Notes from Our Neighbors Along the C. P.

On Monday morning a team belonging to Mr. Hermin, became frightened and ran away. The driver was thrown from the wagon, and the team struck a "bee line" for A. L. Gladden's dining room.

The door was shut in time to prevent the entrance of the unwelcome visitors, but they tried to get in at the window, and succeeded in putting the tongue of the wagon through, carrying away sash, glass and all.

In your estimate of the hay cut in Washoe, did you not omit about 800 tons cut in this vicinity? [Yes, it was overlooked.—ED. GAZETTE.]

Things have a decidedly "fishy" look about the express office, as a large portion of the fishy tribe is shipped by Wells-Fargo. Two teams are now on the road between Wadsworth and the lakes bringing in the heavy daily catch.

PERSONALS.

William Gladden, who has been dangerously ill, is convalescent.

Mrs. Graham, an elderly lady from Iowa, is lying dangerously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Lewis.

Mrs. Charles Garcia, and the bright little folks, are down from Truckee and stopping at the Wadsworth House.

Miss M. Pierce of California, is here renewing old friendship.

Sam Young, the well-known engineer, has returned from Grant county, Oregon.

Mrs. Prof. S. D. Bristow, is preparing to join her husband, who is Principal of the Austin schools.

Where Ignorance is Bliss, Etc.

The Sun, a paper published at North East, Pa., contains the following item:

"We are in receipt of the Seattle Evening Herald, published at Seattle, W. T. We never heard of Seattle before, but the paper has the appearance of being issued in a large city. The leading article is headed 'Statistical review of Seattle's industrial field.' Its mills, furniture factories, brass and iron foundries, iron boiler and marble works, brick yards, barrel factories, cooper shops, match, chair, ice, soda, boot and shoe and other factories. Its best breweries, gas works, water system, etc. This is a great country."

The Sun runs a patent inside, and would not be much more obscured if the outside was ditto and its editor should stick his head in a Pennsylvania oil well, and drown. Did you ever hear of the Western Hemisphere, Johnny?

Time-Lock Tested.

In giving a detailed account of the robbery of the Storey county Treasury, the Enterprise says:

Yesterday morning County Commissioners Kane and Werrin, assisted by J. C. Hampton, local agent of the Yale time-lock, put a seal on the safe, after locking it and setting the time-lock so as to open at 9 o'clock last night. Mr. Hampton was incredulous about the lock being opened at any other hour but that set for, and the proceeding was designed as a test. Early in the evening, however, the lock was tested, and found to open without the least trouble. It was found to be out of order and useless. The parties who robbed the safe must have known the condition of the lock, otherwise they would not have been so confident that it would give them no trouble.

A Plucky Milliner.

A man named M. H. Stewart, and a lady named Mrs. Mary A. Lyle, had a business difficulty at Hanford, Tulare county, California, Monday morning, when the former drew a revolver and fired at the lady, missing her. The plucky milliner then took a shot at Stewart, the ball striking just above the knee and inflicting an ugly wound. Stewart fired two more ineffective shots at Mrs. Lyle, and was then arrested. The hearty sympathy of the community is with the milliner, who is an estimable lady, while Stewart is a quarrelsome, drunken fellow.

A Scorching Devil.

An apprentice in the Los Angeles Times office attempted to take the ink from his clothes with benzine, and was induced by a brother "devil" to apply a match to the clothes to take the smell away. He followed the advice, and was immediately enveloped in flames. A girl employed in the office wrapped her shawl around him and he escaped with no damage beyond singed eyebrows.

A Brutal Prize Fight.

A Caldwell, Idaho, dispatch of yesterday, says: The prize fight for $1,000 a side between McFadden of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Mortland of St. Louis, took place to-day and ended in the fourteenth round. Mortland received punishment from which, it is thought, he cannot recover. He was carried from the ring in an insensible condition.

Driven Away.

FREDERICK, Md.—Hon. Milton G. Urner, M. C. from Maryland, writes: My wife has tested the pain-curing qualities of St. Jacobs Oil, and bears cheerful testimony to its superior virtue; it drives all pain away.

D. M. Gloster, of Loyaltown is at the Palace.

School Report.

The following is the report of the Verdi school for the month ending October 28th: Whole number of days attendance, 425; number of days absence, 39; number of boys enrolled, 14; number of girls enrolled, 14; total, 28; percentage of attendance, 91. The appended is the roll of honor: George Fouke, Charles Loughton, Willie Counter, Johnny Loukey, Lester Merrill, Marin Brier, Jimmy Henry, Patty Mitchell, Nancy Loughton, Katie Loughton, Ellen Gordon, Jessie Ford, Carrie Bates, Maggie Mitchell, Mary Mitchell, Carrie Morrill, ADDIE PARK, Teacher.

Special Rates on Nevada Grain.

In response to a request of a number of Nevada shippers, the Central Pacific made a specially low rate for grain shipping from points in Nevada to San Francisco. It was shown that Nevada raised much more grain than was needed for home consumption, and it being found that the highest freight it could afford to pay to tide water was about $6 per ton, a rate of $5 was made from Reno to the Bay, and $6 from Battle Mountain. The regular rate was about $28 per ton.

A Peculiar Case.

The Revue of the 30th ult. says: A letter from Mr. Booth announces that the surgeons of the Holy Cross Hospital, Salt Lake, have made a very careful examination of his son. For a time they thought he had an abscess growing near his kidneys, but latter examination caused them to doubt this and to think it was a case rarely met with in surgery. They have decided not to perform an operation on him for a time, preferring to study the case more critically.

Fraudulent Brokerage.

The San Francisco Bulletin says, on reliable authority, that a regular system of fraudulent brokerage has been established at Canton to furnish "traders" certificates at from $10 to $50 each. The cost depends upon the standing of the applicant's friends, who vouch for him, as the applicant is not brought in contact with the Chinese officials.

Too Many Trout.

The Carson Appeal tells a fishy fish story about the batteries of the Mexican mill having been clogged by brook-trout. It may be all right, but it is two to one that the Sacramento Bee will not dare to reproduce it, for that subterranean outlet in Lake Tahoe destroyed the last spark of confidence in Mr. Davis' ability to tell the truth.

Tuscarora Infidels.

A week from next Friday is the day set by the Mohammedans for the last day of the world and the final demolition of this planet. Tuscarora people are, however, laying in their winter's firewood just as though nothing unusual was going to happen.

All Right When Sober.

The Boston Herald has discovered a man who is for Robinson when he is sober and for Butler when he is drunk. Colonel Dennis says: It's turkey to salt pork, that old Ben sees that he is drunk on election day.

Must Have Liked It.

A son of John Furlong of Carson on Wednesday swallowed the entire contents of a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure. The fact was discovered immediately, and the boy's life saved by an application of emetics.

The Coombs Case.

District Attorney Torreyson and County Commissioner Jones of Ormsby are in town to-day for the purpose of looking over the cost bill in the Coombs case, which it is presumed they will find all right.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, and are especially designed to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from calomel or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes: "AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and are my constant companion. I have been a severe sufferer from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the most effective and the easiest to take I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers."

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro., Franklin St., Richmond, Va., June 8, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numerous instances as recommended by you, and have never known them to fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home, and prize them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable."

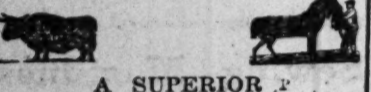

J. T. HAYES, Mexico, Texas, June 17, 1882.

GENERAL NOTES.

While considerable ore is shipped from Winnemucca and other stations, to Salt Lake City to be reduced, the Silver State says large quantities of ores are being shipped from Ogden and other parts of Utah to Melrose, California, where there are extensive smelting works.

WILL NOT BE CONFIRMED.—Van Fleet and Robbins, lately appointed by the Governor as State Prison Directors, will not be confirmed by the Senate. That immaculate body would not confirm Stanford, who had provided for half a million to the State University, as Regent, because he was a Republican, and hence to be consistent they must reject the gentlemen named.—S. F. Spirit of the Times.

BACK AGAIN.—"Kaiser," an old German who has been in the insane asylum at Reno for a year or more, is again back on the Comstock. His mental aberration is of a harmless type. He goes uneasily about, gesticulating excitedly and muttering to himself. He is a baker by trade. He came to the Comstock many years ago, and first worked in a bakery. Those intimately acquainted with him say he was then much the same as at present. The old gentleman feels that he has been greatly wronged. Had he his rights, as he understands them—he would to day warm the throne of Germany in place of Emperor William.—[Enterprise.

In another column is an interesting letter from a Mason Valley correspondent on irrigation, and it contains many valuable suggestions. The plan of storing up water in the wet season and of turning what is used back into the streams is a good idea, but very seldom followed out. It is the rule in Nevada for each farmer to get all the water he can and some men are so hoggish as to allow water to run to waste rather than see the next man down stream have any benefit from it. It is this foolish method of doing business which is at the bottom of most of the tedious and vexatious law suits over riparian rights, and the result is that the well to do farmers get into a row, and at the end of a few years two lawyers have raked in the material of both farms and the ranchers are left almost penniless. The plan of sinking artesian wells is the best idea of all, as it will furnish ranches with a perpetual supply of good water independent of the streams, which, as a rule, run dry in the Summer. As far as we can learn there is no area of any considerable size in Nevada that will not yield plenty of water where artesian wells are sunk under the hands of men who are doing what they can to bring Nevada to the front. In Mason Valley the farmers are making some complaint about lack of water and in listening to them I am led to the thought that if all those without water would go up to, or near the head waters of the Walker river, and make proper provisions for the careful husbanding of the water, when it is plenty, it would be far more satisfactory to all concerned than to growl and complain when some one else is getting more than their share of the water. Smith Valley farmers make no complaint about water but fish at this time. A large number of cattle are dying with what is known as black-leg. In Antelope Valley I notice the most complete system of ditching and irrigation I have ever seen: it is on the ranch of Kirman and Riekey. The work is that of Hon. T. B. Riekey, under whose personal supervision the whole system is carried on, and reflects great credit on his energy and intelligence. As soon as the water is used by him it is carried into the river again and passed on down to those below who in turn use it and turn it on to their neighbors. Thus you see no water is wasted as is so often claimed; the facts are simply these as near as I can determine from pretty close observation. There is not a sufficient quantity of water during a dry season, such as the last season was, to cover the whole of these valleys, and as water is liable to be short any season, it would be well for the farmers of Mason Valley to pool their issues and, if necessary, get some State aid and adopt and carry out a system of water reservoirs at points where water can be caught at times when it is very plenty, with the view of dealing it out when the most need is felt. The sooner such a move is made the better for the State; if the State is ever to come to the front as either an agricultural or stock raising State, something must be done under the enlightened policy of the Republican party. The question of internal improvements might be carried forward to a point where artesian wells could be sunk by the aid of the National Government, but should the Democratic party come into power her well known hostility to any such policy would forever remain a bar to any such move. Mark the prophecy: The time will come when all these valleys will be settled up with an intelligent, energetic and progressive people engaged in mining, farming and manufacturing.

Yours,

The third volume of H. H. Bancroft's history of Mexico, which forms volume VI in the "History of the Pacific States," has just been issued. It begins with the opening of the seventeenth century, concludes the history of the reign of the viceroys and closes with an exhaustive summary of the state of commerce, agriculture, religion and society during the three hundred years from 1500 to 1800. The first half of the book can be dismissed with few words. The story of the rule of the viceroys is not interesting. It is a repetition, under different men, of the same features of arbitrary power, exercised generally with little judgment and small care for the rights of the governed. The annals of the period bristle with riot and turbulence; piracy abounded on all the coasts and some of the corsairs boldly landed and sacked towns and monasteries, despoiling the shrines of their sacred ornaments of silver and gold; there was no government worthy of the name, no provisions for the defense of the coasts, no measures for the preservation of health or the protection of property; much of the government rested with the Governors of the States, as it does today, and the major part of these were venal and exacting to an extraordinary degree. The last eight chapters are interesting, as they contain a review of the industrial and administrative condition of Mexico from the opening of the sixteenth to the nineteenth century. In detail they consider the administrative and judicial systems, mines and mining; agriculture and manufactures; commerce; revenue and finance; the secular clergy; religious orders and society. In the last chapter the author gives a broad comprehensive sketch of the influence of Spanish colonization in Mexico. He again comes to the defense of the conquerors, claiming that the great diminution in native population was due, not to the excessive cruelty of European task-masters, but to the diseases which followed the new civilization—smallpox, measles and probably syphilis; epidemics and famines added to the causes which at times almost depopulated large provinces. The Indian race he looks on as vastly inferior to the European, and the Spaniards were justified in assigning even the caste class to inferior municipal positions. While denied nearly all legal rights, Mr. Bancroft declares that their lot was more fortunate than that of the laborer in civilized Germany or England. Society was divided into two great classes—the nobles and the base—while there was an almost complete absence of the great middle class, which is the main factor in the prosperity and advancement of any country. The customs, manners and dress of the people, their family and social life, form the subject of the remainder of this chapter—the most attractive by style and treatment of any in the book. [A. L. Bancroft & Co., San Francisco.

length, irrigating 24,171 acres. There are 4 railroads, or 108 miles. There are 9 wood and lumber flumes, fluming 28,000 of the 28,755 cords of wood out. There are 45,000 catfish, brook trout, perch and suckers. In 1882 there were only 6,443 acres of land cultivated. Of wheat, there were 1,776 acres, and of barley, 722. The approximate area of the agricultural land in the county aggregates 35,000 acres; of grazing, 400,000; of timbered, 80,000; of mineral 20,000. The assessed value of real estate is $2,738,045, and of personal, $1,235,745, a total of $3,973,790. There are 1,831 registered voters, while the population is estimated at 5,000.

FRANK AND CLEAR.

Having Admitted the Strength of the Evidence, an Eminent Physician Takes Logical Action.

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincey Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," "A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

191 WEST TENTH STREET, NEW YORK, August 11, 1880. MESSRS. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and anti-septic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of lame back, local rheumatism, neuralgia, congestion of the bronchial tubes and lungs, dyspepsia, torpid liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPSINE PLASTER an exceptionally clear plaster to use and rapid in its action. Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other simple article so valuable for popular use nor so helpful in the diseases I have named. Should you desire to do so you may use my name to that effect. Very truly yours, H. H. BANCREFT, M. D. The genuine have the word CAPSINE cut in the center. Price 25 cents.
